Compugen to expand its technology and services offering in Quebec

Montreal, January 18, 2006 – Compugen Inc., one of the largest Canadian-owned IT solutions and services firms, today announced the successful integration of Groupe Conseil LSGI, a Montreal-based IT solutions and services firm focused on the Quebec healthcare sector, into its business portfolio. Together, the two companies will capitalize on their respective technology partnerships, expert knowledge and solid customer relationships to offer the most innovative technology solutions available in today's market to healthcare organizations and facilities in Quebec.

Groupe Conseil LSGI will operate out of Compugen's Montreal office under the Compugen entity. The details of the deal were not disclosed.

Leveraging Compugen's extensive partnerships with many of the industry's leading technology vendors, Groupe Conseil LSGI's current customers will now have access to a greater array of services and a more extensive product offering. Furthermore, customers will also have access to an expanded team of technology experts to address their increasing technology requirements.

"Groupe Conseil LSGI is clearly a market-leader offering viable technology solutions to the healthcare sector in Quebec," says Gilbert Boucher, Vice President, Strategic Business Development, Compugen. "Groupe Conseil LSGI's expert knowledge of the Quebec healthcare sector and its strong business relationships in Quebec make the company a natural fit with Compugen's plans to expand its already successful healthcare technology practice into the Quebec marketplace."

Norman Renaud, the current president and CEO, Groupe Conseil LSGI will continue to lead the entire LSGI team at Compugen to provide both existing and new healthcare customers with the best possible IT products and services.

“Responding to the regrouping and consolidation of the Quebec healthcare sector as well as to our customers’ demands for greater and more comprehensive access to technology to meet the increasing needs of this changing sector, Groupe Conseil LSGI saw a direct benefit in joining Compugen,” says Norman Renaud, President and CEO, Groupe Conseil LSGI. “Our employees are excited about the opportunity to tap into the extensive resources and strong technology partnerships that Compugen has cultivated in order to better serve our existing customers and attract new ones.”

“This integration reinforces Compugen’s commitment to offering products and services that benefit Quebec-based healthcare organizations.” says Harry Zarek, founder and president, Compugen Inc. “Bringing Groupe Conseil LSGI on board will enable Compugen to extend our customer reach and offer the array of solutions we continue to deliver to businesses and government organizations across Canada, helping them realize the greatest advantages from their IT spend.”
